25X1

DIRECTORATE OF INTELLIGENCE  30 August 1983  ZIMBABWE: PRIME MINISTER MUGABE'S VISIT  Summary  We believe Zimbabwean Prime Minister Mugabe hopes to use his visit to the US in mid-September to mend fences. Relations between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980. Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Muyabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia negotiations.  Muyabe also will not hesitate to express his resentment about the negative treatment that he believes Zimbabwe receives in the Western press. The Prime Minister is visiting the US at Summary  We believe Timbabwean Prime Minister Mugabe hopes to use his visit to the US in mid-September to mend fences. Relations between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980. Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Muyabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia  Mugabe also will not hesitate to express his resentment about the negative treatment that he believes Zimbabwe receives in the Western press. The Prime Ministen is vicitive the US of the US.	DIRECTORATE OF INTELLIGENCE
We believe Zimbabwean Prime Minister Mugabe hopes to use his visit to the US in mid-September to mend fences. Relations between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980.  Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Mugabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia negotiations.  Mugabe also will not hesitate to express his resentment about the negative treatment that he believes Zimbabwe receives in the Western press. The Prime Minister is vicinia.	30 August 1983
We believe Zimbabwean Prime Minister Mugabe hopes to use his visit to the US in mid-September to mend fences. Relations between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980.  Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Mugabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia negotiations.  Mugabe also will not hesitate to express his resentment about the negative treatment that he believes Zimbabwe receives in the Western press. The Prime Minister is vicinia.
We believe Zimbabwean Prime Minister Mugabe hopes to use his visit to the US in mid-September to mend fences. Relations between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980.  Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Mugabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia negotiations.  Mugabe also will not hesitate to express his resentment about the negative treatment that he believes Zimbabwe receives in the Western press. The Prime Minister is vicitive the US to	ZIMBABWE: PRIME MINISTER MUGABE'S VISIT between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980.  Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Mugabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia negotiations.  Mugabe also will not hesitate to express his resentment about the negative treatment that he believes Zimbabwe receives in the Western press. The Prime Minister is minister to the US of	Summary
W VIIIO WHEN IIIB (IETENETION 19 TOOLOOK AND INTERNET	between Harare and Washington have been strained recently, more so than at the time of Mugabe's first visit to Washington four months after Zimbabwe gained independence in April 1980.  Mugabe is not likely to seek additional US economic aid, but he will be anxious to reassure US officials and businessmen that Zimbabwe is eager to receive foreign investment. Mugabe also may want to discuss US military equipment sales to Zimbabwe. The Prime Minister can be expected candidly to express his concerns about Washington's policy of constructive engagement with South Africa and the slow pace of the Namibia negotiations.  Mugabe also will not hesitate to express his recentment is memorandum was written by South Africa Branch, rica Division, Office of African and Latin American Analysis. It has en coordinated with the Directorate of Operations. Questions and mments are welcome and should be directed to the Chief, Africa Divising rica Division, Office of African and Latin American Analysis. It has an accordinated with the Directorate of Operations. Questions and aments are welcome and should be directed to the Chief. Africa Division inter-party and tribal strife, the tense security situation in the southwest portion of the country, and domestic economic problems. Mugabe probably hopes to parlay favorable publicity about the trip into a timely boost for his standing at home, particularly in view of the recent return from exile of his political rival, Joshua Nkomo. Mugabe's desire to reaffirm his position as a nonaligned African leader is underscored by his recent trip to Eastern Europe and his plan to make his first visit to the Soviet Union in October.

Declassified in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01: CIA-RDP85T00287R000402110001-5

25X1

25X1

Status of Relations

Relations with Washington are friendly, but there are underlying frictions that flare up periodically. In particular, Mugabe's shift to a more hardline approach in dealing with internal problems over the past year has strained relations with the US and other Western countries.

25X1

Mugabe will be anxious to use this visit as an opportunity to mend fences and to reassure US officials of his desire for good relations.

25X1

25X1

Mugabe's first visit to the US was in August 1980, shortly after his party, the Zimbabwe African National Union (ZANU), won a decisive victory in the elections mandated by the Lancaster House Agreement that ended the Rhodesian civil war. Mugabe was impressed by the enthusiastic reception he received in Washington, according to Embassy reporting, and the visit was an important step in establishing good bilateral relations. Vice President Bush was warmly received in Harare last November.

25X1

Issues of Bilateral Tension

Economic issues underlie Mugabe's desire for good relations with Washington and the West in general. He recognizes that US development aid and investment are vital to Zimbabwe's economic success, and he has publicly expressed his appreciation for US support. Nonetheless, Mugabe is extremely sensitive to any actions by Washington that he believes infringe on Zimbabwe's sovereignty or to any suggestion from US officials that US aid is conditional. In addition, his efforts at pursuing a nonaligned foreign policy often take the form of anti-Western rhetoric and a tendency to adopt "progressive" positions in international forums that are contrary to US policy interests. The US Ambassador in Harare has expended considerable effort explaining to Zimbabwean officials why ministers to ban foreign correspondents who are based in or report to bureaus in South Africa. Zimbabwe subsequently placed further restrictions on journalists that amount to censorship of reports on dissident activities or government countermeasures.

25X1

Southern African Issues

Southern African questions will also be high on Mugabe's agenda when he visits Washington. He will want to discuss overall US policy toward South Africa--which he views as closely tied to bilateral US-Zimbabwean relations -- and is likely to argue that the US policy of constructive

Declassified i	in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000402110001-5
•	· ·	25 X 1
•
	engagement with Pretoria is not evenhanded. Mugabe will press for greater efforts by Washington to restrain South Africa's activities in the region.	25X1
	The bilateral relationship between South Africa and Zimbabwe is strained and a sensitive subject in Harareone rarely discussed with US officials there because of the government's perception that Washington is too close to Pretoria, according to Embassy reporting. Nonetheless, Harare may also see benefits from "closer" US-South African relations.
	Bellet 163 11 oli 10 10301 03 300 oli 111 10011 10 1013 1	25X1
	Harare and Pretoria maintain regular contact through	25X1
	their trade missions. However Mugabe's refusal to accede to South African demands for ministerial level meetings and frequent anti-South African statements by Zimbabwean officials remain major irritants to bilateral relations.	25X1
	Zimbabwe's economic dependence on South Africa provides Pretoria with a powerful coercive weapon. Zimbabwe is dependent on the rail network that links it with South African ports because of the shortcomings and/or disruption of alternative rail routes through Mozambique, Angola, and Tanzania. South Africa is the largest single foreign investor in Zimbabwe, over 80 percent of Zimbabwe's foreign trade currently passes through South Africa, and South Africa is Zimbabwe's single most important trading partner, according to the US Embassy in Pretoria.	X1 25X1
¥	In addition.
	For example, Zimbabwe was plunged into a severe fuel crisis as a result of the December 1982 sabotage of oil storage tanks in Beira, Mozambique. South African-backed Mozambican insurgents—who we believe were aided by South Africans because of the sophisticated nature of the sabotage—claimed responsibility, saying the act was in response to Zimbabwe's decision to send troops into Mozambique to guard the oil pipeline—Zimbabwe's	25X1
	only alternative to supply routes in South African territory.	25 X 1
	Since the South African-induced oil crisis in January, Pretoria apparently has refrained from meddling in Zimbabwean affairs. This restraint, in our view, reflects a perception by South Africa that events in Zimbabwe are already unfolding according to its earlier predictions—that is that blacks are incapable of governing a modern society without succumbing to tribal rivalries. Pretoria may also be convinced that Zimbabwe is holding to its policy of not allowing the African National Congress (ANC) or the Pan-Africanist Congress (PAC)—the two anti-South African groups that have unofficial "offices" in Harare—to stage operations into South Africa from Zimbabwean territory. Any perception by South Africa that Zimbabwe has changed our view, could le

· 👣				25/1
				4
	In that event, Har ness to take such ties.
Namibia and	Other African Iss	ues
of the Frontline the Namibian neg	babwe's position a States, Harare ha otiating process. issue in his disc	s contributed mai Mugabe is likely	nly rhetorical sur to echo African cr	port to
				. *
restrained recen	gabe's statements tly, earlier this	year he charged t	hat the US was	4,
Cuban troops from outspoken than M Namibian indepen	frica by linking a m Angola. The Zim lugabe on Namibia dence has been "ir a of substantive d	babwean Foreign M has stated that o relevant, moribun	inisterwho is mo ne of the main obs d US diplomacy."	re tacles to Namibia
President Bush 1				25X1
Chad. In a stat role of the US, forces" could on affair. A forei	taken a neutral po ement in August, M France, or Libya s ly worsen the Chad gn ministry offici	ugabe avoided any aying instead tha ian conflict, whi al told the US Em	specific referenc t intervention by ch he called an ir bassy in Harare th	es to the "external aternal at the reference was me	ant to apply to Li	bya as well as to	the US and France	25X1 hopes to continu Zimbabwe's prein- both Mugabe's gu "People's Bureau economic and mil	Harare has avoide e to receive assis dependence struggl errillas and the r " in Harare in 198 itary aid. The ar	tance from Tripole, when Qadhafi rival forces of Jo O, and has since rival of a Libyan	<ol> <li>Relations date eportedly supplied shua Nkomo. Libya provided modest am economic delegati</li> </ol>	e back to laid to copened a dount of on in matter of poor t	during the height iming on Harare's an delegation was	part than a signa	1 of its support f	or e two countries ea			25X1
· ·

Declassified in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000402110001-5

· ·
Mugabe Between East	and West
allay US concerns a about his scheduled maintain that he pu leader he is strivi practical level, Mu assistance, althougunwilling and incre	gabe's objectives during his visit, in our view, will be to about Zimbabwe's relations with East European countries and I trip to the Soviet Union in October. We expect Mugabe to irsues a balanced foreign policy and that as a nonaligneding for good relations with both East and West. On a more igabe wants to diversify Zimbabwe's sources of internationally he is probably aware that Moscow and its allies have been easingly unable to supply economic aid to Africa in amounts cantly supplement US and other Western assistance.
Mugabe's agreement him that they no lo Zimbabwe African Pe to move cautiously relations in 1981, Zimbabwe also has tuntil very recently	the Soviet Union have been slow to develop, despite to visit Moscow and the USSR's assiduous efforts to convince onger have ties to his guerrilla rival, Joshua Nkomo, and the cople's Union (ZAPU). We believe that Mugabe will continue with the Soviets. Moscow and Harare established diplomatic but Zimbabwe has not yet opened an Embassy in Moscow. Surned down Soviet requests to open a trade mission and, we had refused to allow the USSRunlike the US and UKto eilings at its Embassy in Harare.
November and in Mar arms shipments in 1 instability in Zimb	and, Zimbabwe signed a small arms agreement with Moscow last cch received the first delivery of what will be a series of 1983 and 1984 Increased babwe, caused either by dissident activity or South African ase Harare to seek additional military equipment and training aspects of the econ "progressive" nonal with Yugoslavia, Ro the greatest suppor has expanded these	es he can adapt and incorporate into his own plans some nomic and social programs pursued by Eastern European and ligned states. Harare enjoys particularly close relations omania, Bulgaria, and North Korea and China, states that gavet to Mugabe's forces during the liberation struggle. Haranties, not only by signing trade, agricultural, and ents but also in the field of security assistance.
Hungary, Czechoslov	to Eastern Europe in May took him on his first visits to akia, and East Germany, with whom relations had been cool. significant economic aid, but offers of security assistant

Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Interpretation of the country and the Interpretation of the country relation of the country rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debat within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on	• political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debat within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in us acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debat within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in us acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debat within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in us acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debat within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in us acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on a smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and Colorare to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on a smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a 2 ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on a smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and Colorare to be a result of the influence of the political links are such that some form of military relationship, although on a smaller scale, will continue, in the view of the US Embassy in Harare.  Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and Colorare to be a result of the influence of the
Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debatwithin the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and Co aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	1:+:-	al links and sur	sh that same form	of militany mola
Despite Mugabe's ties with Communist states, military and economic relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Machine of Machine						ugn on .
relations with the West, particularly the United Kingdom, remain paramount. The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a 2 ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Smarrer	30410, 11111 001	,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,	n or one of Linda	.553
The British connection reflects London's historic legacy in the country and the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a 2 ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the Thatcher government's role in arranging the settlement that led to black majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a 2 ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the majority rule. London shares US concerns about Mugabe's policies and human rights record over the past year, but recently advised Washington that it planned no cutbacks in its current level of development aid.  The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the
The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debatwithin the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and Colline aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	majority	y rule. London	shares US concern	s about Mugabe's	policies and h	uman
The United Kingdom and Harare reached an agreement in Junefollowing lengthy discussionson the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debat within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the						it lengthy discussions—on the future role and size of the British Military Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debatwithin the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and California aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	planned	no cutbacks in	its current level	of development	aid.
Assistance Training Team. Although BMATT's overall strength will be reduced from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	The	e United Kingdor	m and Harare reach	ed an agreement	in Junefollow	ing from about 120 to 60 advisors, the agreement indicates Zimbabwe still values British military assistance, according to the US Embassy in Harare.  Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a 2 ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	lengthy	discussions or	n the future role	and size of the	British Militar	у
Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the
Zimbabwe also has decided after a long delay to purchase Hawker-Hunter aircraft from the UK to replace those destroyed in the Thornhill sabotage last year. The deal had been held up by Harare in part because of an ongoing debate within the government and military over whether to continue purchasing Western equipment or to look elsewhere for replacements.  US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and California aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the						alues us security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and Caircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	ווכוטו וט	,		•
US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the						nter
US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin		a wanlaaa thaaa da	stroved in the t	nornn i i i Sabota
US security assistance also may be on Mugabe's agenda, according to a ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi	t from the UK to				ge last
ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C 130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year.	t from the UK to The deal had bee	en held up by Hara	re in part becau	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat
ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. I within i	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a	en held up by Hara and military over	re in part becau whether to conti	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat
ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. I within i	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a	en held up by Hara and military over	re in part becau whether to conti	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat
ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. I within i	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a	en held up by Hara and military over	re in part becau whether to conti	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat
ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. within i	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a	en held up by Hara and military over	re in part becau whether to conti	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat
ministry of defense official. The Prime Minister may follow up on recent discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. within i	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a	en held up by Hara and military over	re in part becau whether to conti	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat discussions held between the Ministry of Defense and Embassy officers on Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. within i	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a	en held up by Hara and military over	re in part becau whether to conti	se of an ongoin	ge last g debat
Foreign Military Sales credits and Zimbabwean interest in acquiring F-20 and C-130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. within equipmen	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a nt or to look e  security assist	en held up by Hara and military over lsewhere for repla tance also may be	re in part becau whether to conti cements.  on Mugabe's agen	se of an ongoing nue purchasing da, according to	ge last g debat Western
130 aircraft and sidewinder missiles. Renewed Zimbabwean interest in US aircraft appears to be a result of the influence of the	Zin aircrafi year. within i equipmen	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a nt or to look e  security assist y of defense off	en held up by Hara and military over lasewhere for replations tance also may be ficial. The Prime	re in part becau whether to conti cements.  on Mugabe's agen Minister may fo	da, according to	ge last g debat Western o a 2 nt
	Zin aircraft year. within equipmen	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a nt or to look e  security assist y of defense off ions held betwee	en held up by Hara and military over lasewhere for replations tance also may be ficial. The Prime en the Ministry of	re in part becau whether to conti cements.  on Mugabe's agen Minister may fo Defense and Emb	da, according to assy officers of	ge last g debat Western o a 2 nt n
There were however no military representatives included on the	Zin aircraft year. within equipmen	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a nt or to look e security assist y of defense off ions held betwee Military Sales	en held up by Hara and military over lsewhere for replatance also may be ficial. The Prime en the Ministry of credits and Zimba	re in part becau whether to conti cements.  on Mugabe's agen Minister may fo Defense and Emb bwean interest i	da, according to a sy officers on acquiring F-20	ge last g debat Western o a 2 nt n and C
THE THE WATER THE WAY BY THE WAY AND A THE PARTY OF THE PARTY AND A THE PARTY	Zin aircraft year. within tequipment US ministry discuss Foreign 130 airc	t from the UK to The deal had bee the government a nt or to look e security assist y of defense off ions held betwee Military Sales craft and sidewi	en held up by Hara and military over lasewhere for replations tance also may be ficial. The Prime en the Ministry of credits and Zimba inder missiles. R	re in part becau whether to conticements.  on Mugabe's agen Minister may fo Defense and Emb bwean interest ienewed Zimbabwea	da, according to a sy officers on acquiring F-20	ge last g debat Western o a 2 nt n and C

,	Jeciassilieu i	in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000402110001-5	25X1
	•	•
	*
		O. 3141 v. 2. Doubling on the Home
		Political Problems at Home
			25X1
		Mugabe has been preoccupied with internal problems over the last 18 months, in particular the sometimes violent rivalries between the ruling Zimbabwe African National Union (ZANU), the party of the country's Shona-	25 X 1 speaking majority, and the Zimbabwe African People's Union (ZAPU), which mainly represents the Ndebele-speaking minority. Growing lawlessness and violence in Matabeleland followed ZAPU leader Joshua Nkomo's expulsion from the cabinet in early 1982, which ruptured a tenuous ZANU/ZAPU political coalition. The unrest provoked harsh government reprisals that have left many Ndebele alienated from Mugabe's Shona-dominated government.	25X1
		The government's campaign to stamp out political violence and to weaken ZAPU as a political force led Nkomo to flee from the country in March, claiming Mugabe had ordered his death. After five months of self-imposed exile in London, Nkomo returned to Zimbabwe in mid-August. Nkomo's public statements indicate that he hopes to convince Mugabe that only he can lead the Ndebele into accepting a political reconciliation and end the violence.	25X1 25X1
		Mugabe, for his part, does not appear eager to strike a deal with ZAPU.  Nkomo's absence left ZAPU in disarray, and ZANU leaders hoped that the longer he stayed out of the country, the more irrelevant he would become to Zimbabwean politics. ZANU has been going through the motions of unity talks with ZAPU representatives, but  Mugabe has refused to make compromises. We believe Mugabe plans instead to win over gradually the remaining ZAPU leaders and to achieve a de facto one-party state when elections are held in 1985. Mugabe probably will tolerate Nkomo's role as spokesman for	25X1
		the Ndebele people, but will not hesitate to clamp down on Nkomo if his political activities interfere with Mugabe's longstated goal of a one party (ZANU) state.	25X1
		Low-level banditry and dissident activity continue to disrupt the southwestern provinces of the country. Although we believe it does not pose a direct threat to Mugabe's regime, efforts to maintain security have diverted scarce government resources. In addition, the unrest has undermined the confidence of the economically important white commercial farmers in the region. Whites are a highly visible target: 16 whites have been killed on farms so far this year. Officials of the Commercial Farmers's Union are once again putting pressure on the government to improve the security situation in	25 X 1
		* See Annex B for a discussion of white attitudes toward black government.	25X1

<sup>8</sup> SECRET

d in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000402110001-5 Mugabe's Economic Concerns for US aid, which the Embassy in Harare reports has been used effectively. US economic assistance to Zimbabwe is the largest US aid program in Africa. We believe that Mugabe recognizes that any substantial increase in US aid is unlikely, and that he will be seeking general assurances of continued US support.
economic assistance to Zimbabwe is the largest US aid program in Africa. We believe that Mugabe recognizes that any substantial increase in US aid is unlikely, and that he will be seeking general assurances of continued US

Zimbabwe is experiencing its worst economic problems since independence. The drought, a decline in mineral earnings due to worldwide recession, and a dearth of new foreign investment combined to check the brisk economic recovery that followed the end of the civil war. Real growth rates of roughly 12 percent each in 1980 and 1981 plunged to about 2 percent in 1982, and the economy has continued to stagnate this year.

25X1

25X1

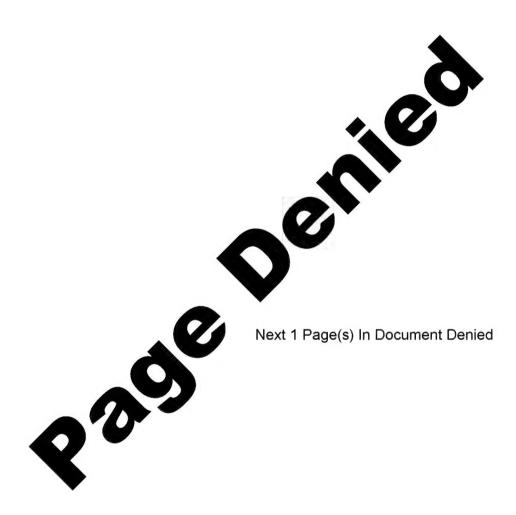

25X1

We expect a moderate economic upturn next year. The world economic recovery should begin to stimulate mining exports while agreements with the IMF--some requiring politically risky measures such as a currency devaluation-will ease balance-of-payments constraints. If rains return to normal, we estimate that improved harvests and increased mining and manufacturing production could push economic growth up to about 3 percent in 1984.

While Mugabe may point out that the world recession and drought are factors beyond Zimbabwe's control, the government's commitment to a socialist path of development has impeded the growth of the private sector--currently the backbone of the economy--and of new foreign investment, although he acknowledges the crucial role of the private sector. Mugabe's personal anticapitalist bias has a strong puritanical flavor. He regards capitalism's emphasis on individualism as basically selfish and immoral and believes that natural resources belong to all the people, not private interests.

Foreign investor confidence has been eroded by Mugabe's steadfast refusal to enter into bilateral investment guarantee agreements—such as an Overseas Private Insurance Corporation (OPIC) agreement with the US. Although investment guidelines issued late last year spelled out the ground rules for foreign investment, the government stopped short of introducing any significant new incentives to attract it. In addition, public statements by government

eclassified in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01 : CIA-RDP85T00287R0004021	10001-5
JEUNET	25X1
*
	25 X 1
spokesmen, including the Prime Minister, that reiterate the country's soc goals continue to frighten off foreign investors.	ialist
Despite Mugabe's personal commitment to socialism, however, he has performed to economic policies, relying heavily on Cabinet leader Bernard Chas the architect of these measures. As a result, in his discussions in Washington, the Prime Minister is likely to express regrets about the low of private US investment in Zimbabwe.	idzero
He is also likely to point to the slow pace of social reform the government has pursueddespite political pressures for changein order avoid the severe economic dislocations that might result from turning too quickly to socialism. The gradual program of land resettlement, long considered the principal objective of the struggle for black rule, and the austere budget proposals for 1983-84 now being debatedwhich include tax increases and cuts in food subsidiesexemplify Harare's deliberate polic	e
	25 X 1
We believe that so long as Mugabe is in power, Zimbabwe will continue tolerate a mixed economy but that his political commitment to improve the living conditions of blacks and to expand government control over mining, manufacturing, and farming will retard economic growth even after drought conditions ease and demand for minerals picks up.	25X1

	in Part - Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/12/01 : CIA-RDP85T00287R000402110001-5	25X1
*	•
•
	ANNEX B
	Ambivalent White Attitudes Toward Black Government	25X1
		š
	In our judgment, the Mugabe government's pragmatic economic policies have contributed to a decline in the fear and anxiety with which the white population in Zimbabwe greeted Mugabe's coming to power three years ago. This change in white attitudes has been an influence for stability in Zimbabwe. Although whites comprise less than 2 percent of the population, they still retain most of the key positions in business and agriculture and some top jobs in the bureaucracy.	25X1
	Whites, nevertheless, remain uneasy about some trends they see or anticipate, including:
	Rhetoric by some ministersoccasionally including Mugabeto increase greatly the pace at which the economy moves toward socialism.
	Calls by Mugabe and his party for a one-party state, which might lead to the abrogation of the constitutional provision reserving, until at least 1987, 20 seats for whites in the 100-seat House of Assembly.
	Calls by government ministers for the repeal of dual citizenship (most whites hold citizenship rights in the United Kingdom or South Africa, as well as Zimbabwe) and for the abolition of the Senate, where constitutionally 10 of the 40 appointed seats are reserved for whites.
	Perceived degradation of the quality of education, health care, and government services as these have been extended to the black majority.
	Whites are also concerned that the government is abusing the emergency powers that it inherited from the regimes of Ian Smith and Abel Muzorewa.	25X1
e G	As a result, the white communitywhich was 240,000 strong at independencehas shrunk to roughly 140,000 and a fairly steady rate of white emigration continues.	25 X 1
•

SUBJECT: ZIMBABWE: Prime Minister Mugabe's Visit

Distribution:

```
Original -- Frederick L. Wettering, Director African Affairs, NSC
       1 -- Donald Gregg, Office of the Vice President
       1 -- Judge William P. Clark, National Security Adviser to the President
       1 -- Chester Crocker, Assistant Secretary of State, Bureau of African Affairs
       1 -- James Bishop, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State.
              Bureau of African Affairs
       1 -- Robert Cabelly, Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State, Bureau of African Affairs
       1 -- Hugh Montgomery, Director, State/INR
       1 -- Herman Cohen, Deputy Director State/INR
       1 -- Leonardo Neher, Director INR/AA, Department of State
       1 -- Peter Spicer, DIO/AF, Defense Intelligence Agency
       1 -- Noel Koch, Depty Assistant Secretary, International Security Affairs, Department of Defense
       1 -- Daniel Simpson, AF/S, Department of State
       1 -- Douglas Mulholland, Special Assitant to the Secretary (National Security), Department of the Treasury
       1 -- David Peterson, Director, Office of Intelligence Liaison.
              Department of Commerce
      1 -- DCI
      1 -- DDCI
       1 -- Executive Director
      1 -- SA/DCI/IA
      1 -- DDI
      1 -- ADDI
      1 -- DDO/Africa
      1 -- NIO for Africa
      1 -- NIC Action Group
      1 -- PDB Staff
      1 -- ILS
      1 -- C/DDI/PES
      1 -- D/ALA
      2 -- ALA/PS
      1 -- ALA Research Director
      4 -- OCPAS/IMD/CB
```

ALA/AF/S

1 -- ALA/AF 1 -- ALA/AF/S 1 -- ALA/AF/S

(30 August 1983)

25X1